Learning Disabilities Association of New Brunswick
Troubles d'apprentissage - association du Nouveau-Brunswick

The Learning Disabilities Association of New Brunswick is seeking to fill vacancies for its board of directors.

Our mission: to promote the understanding and acceptance of the ability of persons with learning disabilities to lead meaningful and successful lives.

We speak as the leading provincial authority on learning disabilities and advocate for the rights of everyone to learn and achieve their fullest potential, despite any learning challenges.

Our activities include sharing and promoting accurate information regarding learning disabilities, assisting youth and their families, adults with LDs, and professionals.

Currently in year one of a three-year strategic plan, LDANB is on a path for growth and program expansion, and financial sustainability. Involvement of board members on key committees is part of the success of the strategic plan. This includes the Fundraising Committee, Communications Committee and Human Resources Committee.

As a Board Member, you would be responsible for:

- Providing your unique input and expertise to further the organization
- Participating in committee work and other special projects
- Provide support in financial planning and oversight
- Attending regular Board meetings
- Attending the annual AGM

All interested persons are encouraged to apply; however, the Executive Board of Directors is hoping to strengthen certain areas of the Board. Key qualities we are looking for are:

- Experience in fundraising and corporate sponsorship
- Background and experience or knowledge in the human resources sector
- Knowledge of adult education and employment support services

Special consideration will be given to those with lived experience.

If you believe that you meet the criteria for our Board and can offer valuable input and aid to our organization either as a board or a committee member, please submit your resume and cover letter, in confidence, to Ainsley Congdon at ed@ldanb-taanb.ca .

Interested candidates are encouraged to apply by Monday, December 2nd, 2024.
